

Nashville Hasn't
Answered Our Water
Rights Question

If you read the Nashville News' editorial against Millwood dam which we reprinted in this column yesterday you know that it left unanswered the one and only question which is pertinent today — do the towns of southwest Arkansas want surface-water rights in this reservoir when it is built?

Editor Graves infers Hope had a hand in promoting the Millwood project and that I am now "defending" it. That's not the case at all. Like most Corps of Engineers proposals the Millwood dam came off the drafting board as part of a vast river valley flood control system — Red river valley — affecting hundreds of thousands of people, and millions of acres of land.

All I know about it was that the project encountered the opposition which every new dam meets and the usual hearings were held. As far as I know Hope had nothing to do with any of the hearings and certainly this newspaper never was a party to the controversy.

Opponents of Millwood wanted the Corps of Engineers to substitute for one big dam on Little river a series of smaller dams farther upstream and on the tributaries. This the Corps of Engineers refused to do, saying Millwood was a "must" at its projected location, 10 miles northwest of Fulton.

Opponents were not satisfied and a final conference was held at which this stipulation was agreed to: That an additional $250,000 (correcting the $150,000 figure I used in this column February 11) would be provided for a re-study of the Millwood project, and when the Corps of Engineers completed this re-study and brought in their final recommendation it would be binding on all parties. This final recommendation has been made — for Millwood.

Now the Red River Valley association charges that the Dierks Lumber & Coal Co. is a party to this stipulation, has breached the agreement. And to my own knowledge the Dierks company has Col. Burdick employed as a consulting engineer and is continuing the controversy with maps and data sent out to the newspapers of the area.

The Nashville News editor argues that —

"Dierks Lumber & Coal Co. may have pledged to drop opposition to Millwood if the Engineers found the multiple dams not feasible. But Howard county made no pledges. As far as I know the cement company officials made none, nor did the 220 cement and railroad workers pledge to stop the fight. This newspaper made none — for sure.

But according to law and all principles of democratic procedure there is a place and time to settle controversies. It is in the hearings which are invariably held on all flood control works.

If Nashville wasn't a party to the stipulation at that final hearing it simply means she wasn't even represented — and this doesn't leave her much ground to stand on in today's argument.

But I do want the Nashville and Gray people to know that this newspaper looked into the status of the cement plant some months ago. We got our information from Corps of Engineers' data, which in the absence of any formal opposition by either Okay or Nashville was presumed to be correct. The following is an extract from a statement by Col. Herbert D. Vogel, Corps of Engineers, Dallas, dated October 2, 1953:

The proposed plan for Millwood reservoir includes provision for protection of the Ideal cement plant near Okay, Ark., by construction of a dike along the north side of the quarry and plant. The dike would provide protection from inundation to the existing cement plant and quarry; however, not all the land owned by the Ideal Cement company could be protected by the dike. The unprotected portion of the property is not developed for quarry purposes at this time, and an allowance for purchase of the unprotected property has been made in the estimate of cost for the project."

The same statement by Col. Vogel says that Millwood would leave the Grayson, Nashville and Ashdown railroad unaffected for the 12 miles between Ashdown and Hazel Springs; but a spur line from Hazel to the cement plant, about 3 1/2 miles, would have to be relocated on a higher grade.

That's public information before the final Millwood hearing at which a binding stipulation was agreed to exchange for $250,000 of taxpayers' funds for the re-survey, I quoted Col. Vogel's statement dated October 3 only because it is the Engineers' latest information in my files — all of the facts have been in the Millwood project data for some years.

I do find myself corrected on a figure, however; Col. Vogel reports the estimated cost of Millwood dam and reservoir to be 55 million dollars — not 53, as we have been printing it in the past.

In conclusion, there never is any true agreement between towns upstream and downstream from a big dam. Nashville, like Hope, was

Ike's Economic Proposal Termed 'Just Right'

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's economic proposals for meeting the nation's current economic situation are "just right."

The Vermont senator said he was particularly impressed with the President's tax recommendations designed to give corporations and investors some breaks.

Rep. Bolling (D-Mo) said in a separate interview he regards it as fully as important to do some things for the consumer.

Consumption can best be increased he said by raising the personal income tax exemption, cutting excise taxes and speeding up action on public works.

Meanwhile Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said he agrees with the President that March will be the key month in showing how the economic winds are blowing.

The President told his news conference that employment normally picks up in March if that doesn't happen this year he said that would be a warning of trouble and his administration could use every year available to head it off.

One of the first things that might be considered he said is a cut in taxes to spur consumer spending. He did not go into detail but the taxes most generally cited in his connection are personal income levies and excise, or sales, taxes.

Ferguson said he personally is optimistic that March will show an improvement in the unemployment situation, specifically in his own state where there now are sizable auto plant layoffs.

But if there is not he said he would be willing to support some emergency moves such as public works projects.

Flanders said he was sure the President's tax program with its business and investment incentives would bring about a decrease in unemployment.

Bolling said the present administration so far "hasn't got to first base" with any program of building up a shelf of planned and ready-to-go public works of the downturn worsens.

Coffee for 3c at Conway

A. T. Maddox, manager of the Cox Drugstore, said he tired of waiting for customers to buy 10-cent-a-cup coffee.

very much interested in seeing the big Narrows dam and reservoir built a few years ago — and I don't believe either of us consulted the people of Daisy or Newhope on how they felt about the encroaching waters.

But now the construction timetable has come down to Millwood, and the hearings are all over, and it is going to be built.

Editor Graves asks me to "take a second look at the Millwood package."

But he hasn't answered my $64 question: What are you going to do about asking for surface-water rights in Millwood reservoir? We've had two dry summers in a row; this is a dry winter; and they're threatening to close down one of the generators at giant Bull Shoals dam in north Arkansas because of low water.

Millwood isn't my baby. It belongs to the Corps of Engineers. I'm in here after the controversy is all over, merely to ask if southwest Arkansas towns are going to unite to get surface-water rights in the reservoir?

The reason I had Col. Vogel's letter of October 2 in my files wasn't because of the old data on Okay and the railroad, but it was due to this paragraph:

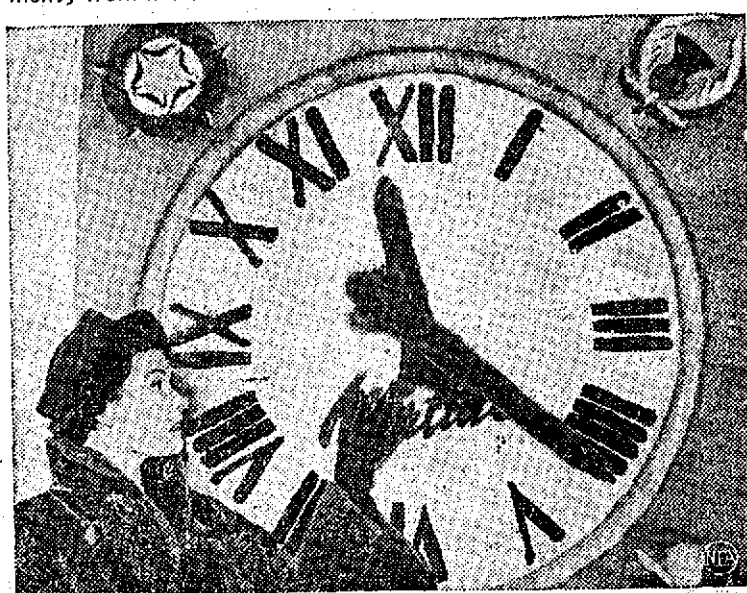

"Because of the indication of a desire of local interests for consideration of water supply storage in Millwood reservoir, there is also shown on the enclosed map the outline of the top of conservation pool with an additional 100,000 acre-feet of water supply storage."

That phrase "local interests" traces back to J. I. Lieblich, Ray Lawrence, and me. We started the ball rolling last September with a trip to Shreveport to get Hope into the surface-water supply picture. And later in the fall we held a meeting in Hope attended by representatives from Texarkana, Ashdown, and Prescott.

Water is our great need in southwest Arkansas. How can I speak differently — with a 55-million-dollar reservoir approaching the construction stage?

The Bootleggers Are Enjoying the Boom Times in America Again With Illegal Sales

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The bootlegger is enjoying boom times in America again.

He's getting to be a big operator, just as he was in prohibition days. He is able to put up $25,000 to $60,000 for a still that will turn out a thousand gallons of alcohol a day.

He has new lists of suckers eager to buy his cases of "smuggled" scotch or Canadian whisky at cut-rate prices. He is again using counterfeit labels and tax stamps on a big scale.

Maybe no one has offered you a bargain basement buy in moonshine lately, but the liquor industry says moonshine is being sold in parking lots, candy stores, gas stations, cigar stores, and by telephone. It says the bootleggers have henchmen working in hotels, apartment houses, business buildings and industrial plants all over the United States.

The postwar rise of the bootlegger has the regular liquor industry more than annoyed. It is so angry that it is considering hiring its own agents and lawyers to track down bootleggers and help the government convict them.

Ralph Heymsfeld, 42, president of Schenley's and a spokesman for the industry, feels the government isn't doing enough to wipe out bootlegging.

"Moonshine has a romantic history. The hillbilly moonshiner is part of our folklore. We're not worried about him."

"But we are concerned about the big operators who have moved into the cities. No one can say for sure how much illegal whisky is being sold. But I say you can go anywhere in New York — or any other major city — and buy bootlegging."

Roy Matthias appeared on the Hope Chamber of Commerce radio program, along with Alex Washburn on Friday evening, February 12, at which time the Millwood Dam and Reservoir was discussed at length.

Photos by Local Couple Take State Honors

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Justus have returned from the Professional Photo grapher's Convention at Fort Smith where several of their prints received recognition.

They had three prints each to qualify for hanging. Only 50 of 100 prints were chosen and only 15 of the 50 were picked for distinguished awards. Three of the 15 were made by the Hope couple. The prints will go into the organization's permanent collection, the highest honor a print can get in Arkansas.

Mr. Justus' picture of architecture and the Paul Lewis home were selected while his wife's portrait of their daughter, Lynne Justus, was picked. The three other pictures were of Sheila Foster of Hope and Nancy Shults of Fulton for Mrs. Justus and the Battleship Texas for Mr. Justus.

French Oppose U. S. Training Indochinese

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American move to help train anti-Communist Indochina troops appeared certain today to run into strong opposition from top French government and army leaders.

There were solid signs that if France accepts this American suggestion it will do so reluctantly. French military authorities were reported convinced they are training loyal Indochinese recruits as fast as humanly possible and that American aid in this task is not needed.

To back up their arguments French diplomats reported today plans to mobilize an accidental 108 "commando" battalions of anti-Communist troops this year. If this goal is met they emphasized loyal Indochinese forces will total some 3200 outnumbering the the forest time.

Coupled with the 170,000-man French Expeditionary Corps this would give anti-Communist forces a 5-3 man power advantage, unprecedented in the bloody seven-year-old conflict.

75 Tons of Seed Already Fumigated

More than 75 tons cotton seed were fumigated for pink bollworm control Tuesday and Wednesday at the Fulton, Emmet and Hope centers reported county agent Oliver L. Adams.

This is very cooperative of all concerned says A. L. Anderson, USDA Pink Bollworm Inspector in charge of the eradication program in the 8-county area. The best information available is that of the cotton producers and others who carried 19-53 seed from the gins only one at Fulton and two in the Emmet area did not report yesterday to the centers. It is possible that these 1953 seed owners have fed their seed. The goal is to account for all 1953 cotton seed as 100 per cent of the seed now in the county is expected to be fumigated.

Today the fumigation crews who headquarters at Hope are at the W. E. Cox & Sons gin at Ozan and at the Sloman Goodlett gin near St. Paul on No. 4 road. Friday fumigation centers will be in operation at the Stephens gin in Blevins and at the Yarbery gin near Sweet Home. Next week the fumigation centers are: Monday at the Harris gin in McCaskill, and Tuesday at the Gilbert gin at Cross roads on the Columbus road and at Nashville at the Sales Barn. The final center scheduled is Saturday 27 at the J. C. Burke gin between DeAnn and Beards Chapel.

Producers are urged to sack seed in any sack other than paper and take seed to the convenient center any time between 8:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. on he date scheduled. Contact your County Agent or community leaders a the scheduled centers for additional information.

Let's Eat Chicken Campaign Here Feb. 20-March 5

Local feed dealers, broiler growers and businessmen met at the Chamber of Commerce office yesterday to plan a "Let's Eat Chicken" campaign in Hempstead to start February 20 and continue through March 5.

This program is in cooperation with a statewide campaign by the Arkansas Poultry Federation to make people of Arkansas more conscious of the importance of the poultry industry. More than 75 million broilers are produced in Arkansas each year.

During this campaign residents will be asked to eat chicken more than usual and cafes, hotel and dining rooms will be asked to stress chicken on the menus.

Details of the campaign will be announced.

All Around the Town

By The Star Staff

Checking back in the Star's files over records of basketball teams this writer finds the five of 1934 was perhaps the best in Hope High School history with exception of the present crew . . . so far as we could find the team only lost three games and that to Walkerville, 3 to 1, in seasonal play including the district tournament which the Walkerville crew won . . . Hope came in second and earned a right to go to the state meet at Harrison where the Bobcats whipped Pea Ridge 30-23, then took Brinkley 47 to 31 but lost in the quarterfinals 28 to 29 — you guessed it, to Walkerville from their own district.

Coach of the team was Teddy Jones who took eight men to the state meet, Hendrix Spragins, Jack Turner, Nolan Cargile, Leonard England, R. C. Kennedy, Jack Simpson, Kenneth Madison and Ray Turner . . . Madison and England were all district players . . . so the present Bobcats have a row to hoe, it takes some real basketball to go the quarterfinals in Arkansas. P. S. During this search in the files I also noted Hope had a snow measuring 1 1/2 inches on February 28.

The old confidence game was pulled on an elderly Sheppard Negro woman here yesterday, resulting in the loss of her savings of $200.

Its an old game that works this way: A Negro man gets into conversation with a Negro woman, in this case Margaret Abner of Sheppard community, west on Highway 87.

A second Negro man comes along and picks up a purse near the pair supposedly containing $1,000. He tells the couple he will split it with them if they won't say anything about it. To be sure they won't say anything he asks them to put up $200 each to prove their "confidence" and that they will not tell. The man puts his $200 immediately.

In this case Margaret stepped into the nearby bank, drew out $200 of the $210 of her life savings and gave it to the man. He goes into the bank to get change for the split and leaves by the back door.

The first man who was talking to Margaret hangs around for awhile, then decides to look for the Negro with the money. He disappears and meets his partner in theft at a designated place and they generally leave town immediately.

Meanwhile the victim is still waiting on the corner near the bank. In fact, investigating officers, said she waited four hours before finally realized what had happened and reporting to police.

New Execution Date for Slayer

By LEON HATCH
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Francis Cherry today reset the scheduled execution of Bill Jenkins for Feb. 26.

Jenkins had been due to die in the electric chair at Tucker Prison Farm tomorrow for the fatal shooting of 16-year-old Cleo Jones near Hot Springs Feb. 17, 1953.

Cherry said he was granting the stay because Jenkins' lawyers had advised him they were unable immediately to get action on a proposed petition for federal court intervention in the case.

The governor, who previously had refused to commute the sentence, said his thinking in the case had not changed but he thought that Jenkins should be allowed the opportunity of every possible legal action.

The Arkansas Supreme Court yesterday refused to grant a delay in the execution to permit a lower court to determine Jenkins' mental condition at the time of trial.

Associated Justice Sam Robinson dissented.

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
BERLIN (UP) — The Big Four foreign ministers agreed today to hold a Korean conference, including the Chinese Communist government, in Geneva, Switzerland, on April 26.

The problem of restoring peace in Indochina also will be discussed, it was announced.

The United States, Great Britain, France, Soviet Russia, North and South Korea and other countries, participating in the Korean war, will be represented in the phase of the Geneva conference. Indochinese peace will be discussed at a meeting at which the Big Five Powers and other interested states will be represented.

The agreement on the Geneva conference, reached at the final session of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference, was announced in a joint communiqué. At the insistence of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, a paragraph was put in the communiqué specifying that the agreement to hold the Geneva conference does not constitute recognition of the Chinese government.

Important Meet of Hope CAP Squadron

An important meeting of Hope's newly organized CAP Squadron is to be held Friday night Feb. 19 at Municipal Airport. The Squadron, which first organized about three weeks ago, is to be officially sworn into the Civil Air Patrol this Friday meeting by Major Cripes, AF CAP Liaison Officer, Arkansas Wing.

All members have been urged to be present for this ceremony. It is the final step toward securing the L-16 Liaison plane and radio equipment which is to be stationed at the Airport permanently. The plane has been allotted to the Squadron to be flown by any member who desires; provided he has a license pilot with CAP and being a member of the CAP may become a CAP pilot. However, it is not necessary to be a pilot to join the Squadron. There is no charge for the use of the Liaison plane, except that members who use it pay for the gasoline and oil.

There are 21 Senior members already on the roster, with many others in the process of getting their papers sent through channels. A person 18 years or older may become a senior member in the CAP. Anyone interested in joining or learning more about the organization is welcome to attend the meeting.

It is hoped that within the near future, a Cadet program can be initiated. One of the main purposes of the Civil Air Patrol, other than aiding in searching for downed airplanes, is the promotion and encouragement of interest in aviation. The Cadet program is open to young men from 14 through 17 years of age. Although there is definitely no instruction carried out on the Government plane, a cadet may ride as a observer, provided he has the consent of the pilots.

Disloyal List of Firings Rises to 29

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The number of officials disclosed 1953 government firings for disloyalty reasons rose to 29 today as the administration took steps toward analyzing 220 "security risks" cases.

The figure of 29 covers only five big departments, whose officials have been questioned about security separations by the House appropriations Committee and whose testimony has been made public. The same departments reported 437 "security risks" had been dropped. Most recent agency to report was the Commerce Department in testimony made public today. Asst. Secretary James C. Worthy told the committee 132 security firings or forced resignations last year included 23 persons classified as "cases involving alleged subversion or disloyalty."

Previously, the Justice Department had reported 1 former Communist among its 8 security firings; the Treasury Department had listed 4 disloyalty cases among 130 dismissals the Agriculture Department had told of 1 disloyalty case in an undisclosed number of security ousters and the Post Office Department had reported 166 security releases with no disclosure of how many, if any, were disloyal.

The State department already has given its figures but the committee has not released them. Reported there have been 534 security firings in the State Department figures unofficially reported showing that out of 871 security causes in six departments 40 or 41 have involved persons found or suspected to be disloyal.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said, meanwhile, the administration's promise of a limited analysis of the security risks will not stop his demands for a senate investigation of the whole issue.

Johnston told reporters the promised analysis "could mean anything—it only confuses the confusion." He said that as he understands the plan the analysis will leave many questions unanswered and there is no assurance the administration will make it public.

Republicans Split Over Manion

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's firing of Clarence Manion as head of one of his study commissions split Republicans into two camps today.

Manion former dean of the Notre Dame Law School, resigned as chairman of the Intergovernmental Relations Commission, declaring he had been let out because he supports a proposal constitutional amendment by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit treaty powers. The White House had no comment.

Bricker, whose amendment has been opposed vigorously by President Eisenhower arose to tell his colleagues "there is a threatening storm ahead when men of great ability who do not see alike with the leaders of an administration" cannot continue to serve in an official position.

Sen. Jenner (R) jumped to his feet to demand that "whatever accusations have been made against this fine American statesman" be brought out in the open and that Manion be given and opportunity to "confront his accusers."

"It is a dangerous age if a man like Manion can be made to walk the plank because he has fundamental views he believes in," Jenner thundered.

Manion said in a statement yesterday that a Feb. 2 demand by Sherman Adams, chief of the White House staff, for his resignation confirmed columnist reports that he was to be forced because he had been making speeches in favor of the Brecker amendment.

"The Brecker amendment embodies a principle that have openly supported for years," Manion declared. "My devotion to this principle was well known at the time of my appointment as chairman of the commission."

The commission made up of eight public members and four governors appointed by Eisenhower five senators and five representatives, recently has been seeking more time to study relations among federal, state and local governments. It was to have reported this spring.

Louisiana Firm Submits Low Bid

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — R. C. Cudd Jr., West Monroe La., submitted the apparent low bid of $51,000 for construction of dikes on the north bank of the Arkansas River about 17 miles downstream from Morrilton.

Little Rock District engineer Joe Clema said yesterday a contract will be awarded after he has studied the 10 bids submitted.

of information falling within the government security regulations.

Young said some of the separations were by dismissal some by resignation and that not all who quit were aware their files contained derogatory material. Young's statement did not say whether the report would be made public.

President Eisenhower has said he was looking into the feasibility of making public a breakdown to indicate how many cases of disloyalty were found.

Many Democrats have complained the public has been misled by statements of some leading Republicans that most of the announced 2,200 "security firings" involved disloyal or subversive employees. Actually, they say, most of the 2,200 were homosexuals, drunkards, incompetents, or persons who talked too much.

Texarkana Players Suspended

TEXARKANA (AP) — Texarkana High School has announced suspension of two star athletes for participating in tryouts at Vanderbilt University.

At the same time the high school severely criticized the Southeastern Conference college for what it called "unethical practices."

Principle K. B. Davis and Athletic Director Bobby Ellen said senators Paul Caver and Robert Northcutt visited the Vanderbilt campus at Vanderbilt's expense last weekend in violation of Arkansas high school eligibility rules.

The authorities said that, as a result, the two boys would be prohibited from participating further in Texarkana high school athletics.

Both boys were All-Big Seven Conference stars last fall. Northcutt is a 215-pound tackle and Caver is an 185-pound quarterback. Craver also has been the leading scorer of Texarkana's basketball team. Both a roostering track and field men.

"I didn't appreciate the action of Vanderbilt," coach Allen said last night. "I thought it was poor judgment on their part. I think it is bad for a school to proselytize a boy when he still has high eligibility. Something has got to

Squabble Stirs on Eisenhower Butter Step

by DWIN B. HAAKCNSON

WASHINGTON, (AP) President Eisenhower's defense of lower government price supports as a step aimed at getting butter back on the American dinner table has stirred fresh controversy in Congress today.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said he agrees with the President and will begin public hearings next week on the "Whole dairy problem" before his Senate Agriculture Committee.

The House was not far behind. Chairman Hope (R-Kan.) said the House Agriculture Committee will start hearing March 10 on new farm legislation, which he called "everybody's problem."

"The stability and prosperity to city agriculture is an essential to city be done about the practice. It's not ethical for a school to do something like that."

Mrs. Tucker's Cherry Puffs

Bolt 1/2 cup MRS. TUCKER'S SHORTENING and 1 cup water in a saucepan over medium heat until shortening is melted. Add 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour all at once, stirring hard. Cook until mixture forms a ball around the spoon. Remove from heat and add 4 eggs, one at a time, beating smooth after each addition. Drop from a tablespoon on a greased baking sheet, shaping into mounds with a point on top. Bake for 10 minutes in a hot oven (450 degrees) then lower heat to 400 degrees and continue baking about 25 minutes longer or until completely dry throughout. Cool, slit the sides and fill with cream filling or vanilla ice cream.

Serve topped with CHERRY SAUCE: Drain juice from a can of unsweetened pie cherries. Blend together 1/2 cup cornstarch and 3/4 cup sugar; add juice gradually, then cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Add cherries and red food coloring. 1/4 teaspoon almond flavoring may be added, if desired. Serve hot or cold over cream puffs.

President Looks for Sunshine

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. President Eisenhower welcomed to this desert resort looked forward to soaking up plenty of sunshine on it on the golf course. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived here last five days of rest after a nonstop flight from Washington. A crowd of about 2,000 turned out to greet the President and his family as they descended from their private plane. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower were welcomed by California's Gov. Good Knight. "We are delighted to have them here again. We have been looking forward to a visit to this trip. We are delighted to have them here," said Knight. The Eisenhower's brought the First Lady's mother, Mrs. S. Doud—were welcomed by California's Gov. Good Knight.

Heysfeld said that the distilled spirits industry paid $1,840,850, 650 in federal and state taxes in 1953, roughly $13.25 a gallon, but that the government spent less than six-tenths of one per cent of this revenue to enforce the liquor laws. "Most bootleggers get suspended sentences," he added. "Only a third are sent to jail. The courts simply aren't doing the job."

"Cautiously the government concentrates its campaign against bootlegging in the southern states, but the bootleg industry actually is flourishing in every section of the country."

"They seize 20,000 stills a year, but the amount of bootlegging isn't going down. We say it's increasing."

Heysfeld thinks bootlegging could be cut down if the taxes on legal liquor were lowered, thus permitting it to be sold more cheaply. But he doesn't believe there is much real prospect of getting the taxes lowered.

"The only way left to meet the moonshine menace is by stricter enforcement," he said. "We are considering setting up a number of pilot operations in which, in cooperation with government officials, the liquor industry can protect itself against bootleggers, just the legal liquor industry is tired of as banks hire Pinkerton guards to paying all the taxes and taking

He wouldn't go into the details of his program, but he was hopeful the liquor industry can protect itself against bootleggers, just the legal liquor industry is tired of as banks hire Pinkerton guards to paying all the taxes and taking

Consumption of Cotton Is Up

WASHINGTON — If world construction of cotton continues at its present pace, it could lead to an increase in exports of U. S. cotton the international Cotton Advisory Committee said yesterday. The committee said countries of the free world are using about five per cent more cotton than they did at this time a year ago and consumption may well approach the record volume used during the 1930-51 season. However consumption in this country was said to be running nearly seven per cent below a year ago.

Dayey Goes Against Art Aragon Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ex-California Chuck Davey, the idol of the nation's television fans until Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan knocked him out of the picture, goes on without benefit of the TV cameras tonight against Los Angeles' Art Aragon.

They meet at 10 rounds or less, and with all reserve seats sold out, Promoter C. J. Eaton confidently predicted a turnover crowd of more than 10,000 and gate receipts of around $80,000.

Davey, the 27-year-old degree holder from Michigan State College, is the man Aragon has been dying to meet ever since the self-styled Golden Boy saw Gavilan work Chuck over.

Aragon is the 2-1 betting favorite and promised to duplicate Gavilan's stunt, only much quicker.

Aragon has a record of 77 fights. The list was padded well with set-ups, particularly doings his original rise to prominence and shows he has scored 40 victories by knockouts, lost 13 matches, and drew in five.

Two Runners Enter Ben Franklin Mile

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The pick of the world's distance runners has been invited to run in the Ben Franklin mile event at the 60th
annual Penn Relay Carnival April 23-24.

Penn Athletic Director Jerry Ford was dreaming of the first four-minute mile in history being run over the Franklin Field circles when he announced yesterday
the potential field for the event.
It would include Roger Bannister
of England, 1952 winner of the event; Josy Barthel, Olympic 1,500
meter champion from Luxembourg;
John Landy of Australia; Wes Sae-ter, Kansas U. Len Truex, last year's winner and former Ohio State runner Fred Wilt, the FBI
miller, and Mal Whitfield, Olympic 800-meter champ who will be making his debut as a miler in the Ben Franklin feature.

Whitfield has already accepted
and Truex, Santee, Wilt, and Barthel have indicated they will compete.

The average American uses about half as many fresh strawberries
as before World War II but 200
per cent more frozen strawberries.

Hope Teams Go to Gurdon

Hope's Junior and Senior boys will journey to Gurdon tonight for a couple of games with the Go-Devils.

Emmet Hosts Nevada Co. Boys Tourney

In the Nevada County tournament
now in progress at Emmet the following games were played last
night:

Prescott Junior boys 46, Willis-
ville 27

Prescott Senior boys 68, Cale 54

Emmet Senior boys 53, Willis-
ville 28.

Games slated for tonight pair
Prescott and Cale Junior boys;
Prescott and Bodcaw senior boys;
Bodcaw and Laneburg Junior boys.

The finals will be played Saturday night according to Carlton Hasley, and Dall Haskett, senior and junior coaches of Emmet.

But Pettit, according to the latest NCAA figures is second with a 33.1 average.

Bob's average is higher than any one ever has posted except Selvy
this season. He is well ahead of the record of 29.5 points per game
established by the Furman ace
last year. Pettit also has career average of 27.4 points per game
and three 50-points plus performances, the only other player besides Selvy to score that many more than once.

ed the length of three barley corns
laid end to end.

NEW YORK (AP)—There must be
days when the men who run organized baseball in this country

just sit and wonder if they still have any friends left anywhere.

The latest group to develop a grievance against the game's rulers are the members of the Caribbean Winter Baseball Leagues in Cuba, Puerto Rico, Panama and Venezuela. Their delegates are meeting in San Juan, P. R., this week in conjunction with the annual Caribbean "World Series,"
and they are expected to rake the big leaguers over the coals.

The rise in Latin temperatures
has been brought about by the current rule which permits big leaguers to play in the four Spanish-speaking leagues for only 60 days
each winter, and which requires that they obtain permission from their parent clubs. This rule, says our San Juan correspondent, has messed things up for fair, and he explains why.

"The main squawk in Puerto Rico," he writes, "has been the case of players abandoning their teams here a long time before the local season ends, thus bringing unbalance to the teams affected
and causing disillusion among local fans."

"The San Juan club lost Bill Renna of the Athletics. Jack Harsh-man of the Chicago White Sox, Gene Baker of the Chicago Cubs
and Ellis Deal of the St. Louis Cardinals that way. The last two were promoted to the parent clubs
during the winter. Renna came here under permission from the Yankees, but when he was traded
to the Athletics he said he received word from his new manager, Eddie Jost, 'advising' him to quit playing here and return home."

"Eduardo Santiago, one of the Puerto Rico delegates, says this week's meeting will ask for a revision of the whole agreement, as 'everybody has seen that the deal
hasn't been what it was cracked up to be.' Other I league officials say that steps must be taken to see that all players from the states
finish their contractual terms here
in the future."

From this it would appear that the Latin countries which have become an important incubator of big league talent, have a legiti-mate beef, and that it will behoove
the members of baseball's Executive Council, who are expected to attend the San Juan meeting to listen carefully when their hosts
start talking.

Among other things, the Caribbean delegates will point out that their fans are writing letters of protest charging that the winter league were the closers in signing any such 60-day agreement
with the big leagues, and demanding that it be terminated. This is a language all baseball owners understand.

The Latin leaguers are, as a matter of fact, in a strong position
to demand and obtain what they consider an equitable solution of the problem. Our owners would not like to have the Caribbean leagues
closed entirely to American talent,
as it offers a fine proving ground
for young players during the offseason. The players find the money involve, very welcome too.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

DR. TALBOY watched Shelly.
"Do you know Dr. Lewis?"

"Yes, and I've met his wife.
There were parties for them when they were married. I liked her, and wondered..."

"Why she would marry him?"
Shelly's pink cheeks were his answer.

"I'm not in the market for gossip as such, Shelly," he said after another pause.

"I know you're not, Doctor."
"I wish you'd call me by my first name. After all, I am Stephen's friend."

"Yes," she said warmly, "and he likes you very much. All right, it shall be Craig, then. Even in the office?"

"As you choose. Now, if you would tell me what you know about the Lewis setup?"

"It isn't much. Dr. Lewis seems very popular—and I thought he was a widower when he first came to Norfolk. But it seemed his wife was an invalid; she died last year.
I don't remember just when except that it was hot when they had the funeral. He has one child, a grown daughter—she works in the city,
I believe, and comes home on week ends. I—I don't like the doctor much myself, but he is generally popular."

"Did Stephen like him?"
Shelly frowned in an effort to remember. "I don't know. He's been at car parties. I think he was more popular with women than with men. I—I don't like him. I don't care too much for middle-aged men with amorous manners."

Dr. Talboy laughed. "Anybody ever tell you that you didn't need to, with your youth and beauty?"
Shelly's lips pouted her reproof.
"And his marriage..." prompted
her caller.

"Oh, yes. Well, it was somewhat sudden. There was a little talk—
at least, I heard a little—that Dr.
Lewis was courting a woman in St. Williams, and then, all at once, or so it seemed, I heard that they had married. She was house-mother at one of the dormitories at the girls' college there. The word came—mellé put me off, and I was surprised when I met her, to find her barely thirty. Incidentally,
they were already here when they were married."

"Yes. Around Christmas. But I never met her until three weeks ago." His face had gone stern.

"She seemed so friendly, and pretty—I was shocked to know that she'd tried to kill herself."

Dr. Talboy got to his feet, and leaned an elbow on the mantel.
"I was shocked at her reason for doing it," he said harshly. "Shelly—I don't know what Stephen
would do under these circumstances! I know I'm supposed to care for his practice, but he knew well enough to give I would not compromise my own standards
of honesty and integrity."

"Of course not," she breathed.
"He wouldn't want you to."

There was, said Shelly softly.

But the thing is on my mind,"
he confessed the doctor more quietly.
"To me, the worst of the whole
stinking affair is the way the town has found to excuse what is inexcusable. I've sensed those excuses, without knowing precisely what they were. I thought, having been to a party where there was bound to be gossip..."

"There was," said Shelly softly.

"Any talk about Mrs. Lewis?"
The golden head lifted quickly,
and a shadow of a frown crossed Shelly's face. "I did not come here to ask that," said Dr. Talboy hurriedly. And a little more loudly
than was warranted.

Shelly flushed.

he confessed the doctor more quietly.

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The time has come around again to spread the alarm that the Jones boys, father and son, have a Kentucky Derby horse, and that Eddie Arcaro has promised to ride it for them May 1 at Louisville.

This combination up to now has battled combination up to now has the 3-year-old classic. Four times Arcaro has straddled a Calumet colt trained by Ben the elder and son Jimmie, and each time the world's richest jockey has trotted
him back to the winner's circle.

Last year, for a heartening
change to the other stables, the Jones boys and Calumet passed their hand, not believing they had a horse capable of running with Noble Dancer. But now they are back, and this is the customary warning issued by this bureau.

Their colt's name is Duke's Lea.
His name was the famous sire
Blenheim II, whose previous progeny included the great stretch-running Whirlaway, winner of the 1951 Kentucky Derby. This one also likes to come from away back.

The reason you might have heard
very little about Duke's Lea until just lately is, that he ran only one time last year, in April, and didn't do any good then. The Jones boys started turning him loose only recently out in California.

There now meet for the hunters of evil in athletics. Having worn the field of college sports
pretty thin with investigations, allegations and regulations during the past decade, these folks or their counterparts now are training their sights on the high schools.

In Atlantic City, N. J., last weekend a group of educators known as the Educational Policies Commission charged that "bad practices that mar athletics" are prevalent in "too many American schools."

These practices were defined as pampering athletes, whipping up
student frenzy before games and exploiting athletic competition as
"a good show to be sold to the public as vaudeville."

Johnnie Burnett, who as executive secretary of the Arkansas Athletic Association has the job of detecting any such practices in this state's high schools, feels that these educators "went to extreme"
in their criticism.

While there may be rotten apples in every barrel, Burnett believes Arkansas prep shorts have kept their skirts clean.

"If there are any outstanding
examples of these bad practices
in Arkansas," he said, "we don't know about them. We've been watching for those sort of things
all along. We started working real hard to prevent undesirable em-

college athletic scandals broke."

Actually, Arkansas high schools
were moving in an opposite direction from the colleges in the sports
field right along, while the colleges were putting more and more emphasis on sports, the prep
group was tightening its regulations and their enforcement.

For instance, it hasn't been too
many years since leading high school football teams recruited
out-of-town talent left and right.
Or since the age limit for high school athletic participation was considerably higher and, even then, generally ignored or secre-
tarily violated.

Burnett admits that "pamper-ing of athletes is apparent in some

Arkansas dropped its postseason

there certainly is no inclination to

Cards Open Special Training

By JOEREICHLER

DELAND, Fla. (AP) — Until the big league clubs begin their spring training drills in earnest next week, the center of baseball activity in Florida will be in this normally quiet city of Deland, 25
miles from Daytona Beach.

Here is where the St. Louis Cardinals have opened their special pre-training school for hand-
picked athletes and discharged
service players in the Redbird organization.

The site is a former naval air base which includes three playing fields, housing eating and recreational accommodations. Unlike other pre-training schools, which limit
the number from 12 to 25 players,
this camp houses some 100 players
at present. When the advance camp ends on March 7, the grounds will be used as training
base for the top nine of the Vardinals' 20 farm clubs. The other clubs will continue to train in Albany, Ga.

The camp, which is expected to cost about $200,000 a year to operate, is in line with the progress-
sive program launched by Cardinal President August A. Busch, who refuses to become alarmed by talk of recession in baseball. The sportsman-brewer, who purchased the club from Fred Saigh last March for $3,750,000 and paid $1-100,000 for Sportsman's Park, already has shelled out an additional $1,000,000 for the rehabilitation of the organization and some $400,000 for new players.

"We have faith in baseball as a business as well as a national pastime," Busch explained. "It is our aim to make the Cardinals one of the strongest, if not the strongest organization in baseball. We have hopes of winning a pennant
this year. But if we can't we feel we most certainly will win a championship within the next two or three years."

Every player in the school, exclusive of the service returns in prospects. Included in the list are

Slade Surprises by Licking Henry

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Jim m y
Slade, 27-year-old homeback kid,
has bounced right into the middle of the light-heavyweight championship picture.

"I out maneuvered him," Slade
said after scoring a surprising 10-
round decision over Clarence Henry of Los Angeles in a nationally televised bout last night. Slade, of Norfolk, Va., weighed 178½, Henry 186.

Jimmy's speed had Henry but-fled through half the fight and then he added to Henry's confusion by rallying with telling blows every time it appeared he had been hurt
himself.

"He only hurt me once, in the ninth," Slade said.

Last night's victory might earn Slade a rematch with Johnson, or possibly one of the next shots at Archie Moore's title.

Henry, however, was anxious to get another crack at Slade. "I was bothered because of a virus infection I had a month ago," he said after the fight.

Judge Harry Dwyer saw the fight
for Slade, 99 points to 91. Judge
Bob Kilmartin had Slade ahead
97-95, but Referee Charley Reynolds called it a draw, 94-94.

TCU Knocks SMU Out of Title Picture

DALLAS, (AP) — Texas Christian
scored 10 points in the final three minutes at Fort Worth last night
to whip the Southern Methodist Mustangs 73-65 and send the Ponies out of championship contention.

Already out of the championship running in the basketball race, TCU now has won 10 straight games over SMU cagers and has won 11 of the last 12 meetings.
Last night, the Horned Frogs played without their leading scorer, 6-7 Henry Ohlen. They also used their second high scorer, Ray Warren, only part of a half because of a knee injury. Ohlen has an ankle injury.

The Frogs trailed only twice,
each time by a single point. But the game was always close until the Mustangs tied it up 63-63 with 4 minutes and 14 seconds remaining.

Center Charles Brown and guard
Art Barnes of the Ponies shared scoring honors with 15 points
each.

The loss destroyed SMU's last hope for a share of the conference crown and put Texas Christian in a tie with the Methodist for fifth and sixth places with 4-won, 5-lost records.

The game was the final contest
among conference teams until Saturday when Rice meets Arkat-

tical instruction and observation.
Cardinal players asked to attend
include Pitchers Tom Poholsky, Joe Presko, Walter Montgomery, Eddie Yuhas, Cloyd Boyer, John Romanosky, Bob Tiefenauer and Gary Blaylock. Other Redbirds
here are Rip Repuski and Rookies
Tom Alston, Alex Grammas and Tom Burgess.

with a 5-4 record and Baylor
fourth place with a 4-4 mark-

Antidote for Nerve Gas Is Plentiful

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—The lifesaving antidote for frightening nerve-gas war now can be made artificially, and there is already enough to treat 400 million persons. It was disclosed today.

The drug is atropine, until now obtained only from plants grown mostly in Iran, Ceylon, and other countries controlled by Russia.

The synthetic drug, made with chemicals from petroleum, frees this country from dependence upon foreign supplies.

Synthetic production of atropine is announced by Winthrop-Stearns, Inc., of New York City and Rensselaer, N. Y.

Nerve gas blocks or paralyzes nerves, causing death unless quickly counteracted. Atropine is the best known antidote, for it neutralizes the paralyzing chemical in nerve gas.

The firm has supplied 330 pounds of atropine for Defense Department stockpiles. A life-saving dose is only 1-150th of a grain of atropine sulfate. Thus a single pound of atropine is enough to treat more than one million persons. The drug can be stockpiled, in ampules ready for injection, at strategic locations for military or civilian use.

Atropine is obtained naturally from atropa belladonna and datura stramonium. The biggest producers of these plants are Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania and Yugoslavia, with some now beginning to be grown in Australia.

"There is evidence that large quantities of natural atropine have been disappearing recently behind the Iron Curtain," said Dr. Theodore G. Klumpp, president of Winthrop-Stearns.

So much so that the foreigners passed up his bride, a girl named Lana Turner, in order to get his autograph. That was partly due to her new brunette hair shade, which makes her look unlike the Lana film audiences know.

"Lana was delighted when the fans failed to recognize her," Dr. Klumpp said. "There are two stages in a star's career. The first is when he's starting out and is wild to have someone ask for an autograph. The second is when he's happy to go somewhere and not be recognized."

That's why Lana likes her new hair. Her husband likes it too—says it makes her look softer.

U-I has big things planned for Lex. The studio's programming has been built around three stars—Hudson, Tony Curtis and Jeff Chandler—and a new boy is needed to avoid a sameness of product.

Tarzan Now Play in Westerns

BOB THOMAS

LYWOOD, (AP)—Lex (Tarzan) is turning in his lineolite boots and saddles.

Handsome actor will no longer flex his muscles in the jungle. From now on, his dialogue will read "em off at the cross" instead of "Me Tarzan, you Jane."

He signed a seven-year contract with Universal-International, is news in itself. Not for months has any studio signed established player to an exclusive deal. U-I specializes in pictures, especially Westerns, and that's all right with Lex. "I like the kind of picture I'm doing," he said. "I like working outdoors. Besides, I think a man looks silly in indoor pictures. A fellow like John Wayne looks better on a horse than in a business suit."

Lex was the 10th of the Tarzan films. His resignation from the series means that producer Sol W. Polito will have to start hunting for a new man. The actor explained the reason for the split: "I'm at this point in my career where I ought to be able to en-

that never before echoed the voices of men.

At the expedition's advance camp three miles inside the cave, Phil Harsham, Louisville Courier-Journal reporter with the expedition, said the three explorers pushed beyond "Bogardus Waterfalls."

Striking out from the falls, said Lehrberger, a Louisville dance instructor, was "like diving into a bowl of spaghetti—passages ran in every direction."

"There was considerable excitement at the camp," William Burke Miller, an NBC newsman accompanying the expedition said. Other exploring groups of four or five members each, also had probed into hitherto unknown passageways.

The group led by R. N. Charlton, a farmer of Dillwyn, Va., discovered an unknown shortcut to Bogardus Waterfalls. The old route took seven tedious hours to travel one way. The shortcut saved other explorers four valuable hours to spend searching on the other side of the falls, which are named for "Bud" Bogardus, 22-year-old Kentucky farmer who first found them in 1949.

The expedition's 60 men and women members make it the largest venture of its type ever attempted in America.

They have yet to pass all guide marks left by Crystal Cave's discoverer, Floyd Collins, who died when a sliding rock pinned him in

Explorers Discover Big Cave Rooms

CRYSTAL CAVE, Ky., (AP)—Unknown canyons deep in the earth beneath the rolling hills of southern Kentucky were reached today by a fired band of Crystal Cave explorers.

Great cave rooms, decorated with spider-like stone formations, were found by three male members of the National Speological (spelling) Society expedition.

After three hours of tortuous crawling and climbing they broke into "the beyond"—the explorers' term for the dark world of rough virgin passages 300 feet below the scenic landscape of the Mammoth Cave National Park area.

The zigzagging passages opened into larger cave rooms where the strangely contorted stone projections called helictites, rarest of all cave formations dangled from the ceilings.

The three explorers—John Lehrberger of Louisville, Ky., Russell H. Curnee of Tenafly N. J., and Albert C. Mueller Jr., of Scotch Plains, N. Y.—listened to their words bounce back from cave walls

thrup-Stearns.

About 1,000 pounds of atropine are used annually in this country, mostly as an anti-spasmodic to relax muscles in treating gastro-intestinal disorders, and for eye drops in eye examinations.

Synthesis of the drug was achieved by research teams of Sterling-Winthrop Research Institute, Rensselaer, and Winthrop-Stearns, building on developments by other scientists.

WHAT METHODISTS BELIEVE 4

We Believe in the Bible

The Scriptures are the record of God's progressive revelation of Himself through inspired men, and the story of His righteous purpose in history to bring mankind to final perfection in Christ. The Bible contains all that God requires for salvation and is the sufficient rule of both faith and conduct. It has withstood all efforts to destroy it; it has survived the scientific study of its pages, and by its enduring truth it has confounded its critics and stands today more historically credible and more spiritually indispensable than ever before. It is God's eternal Word to every generation.

'Eternity' Is Headed for Oscar Awards

By BOB THOMA
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "From Here to Eternity" has swept through the 13 nominations in the Oscar derby and appears to be the picture to beat.

The nominees, which were announced last night, showed a strong favoring for the hard-bitten Army drama. It drew an amazing five nominations from its stars and at least three of them were strong favorites to win.

Current Hollywood betting favors tough Burt Lancaster for the top Oscar because of his sergeant's role in "Eternity." Deborah Kerr, who abandoned queenly roles to play an Army wife of loose morals, could also be a winner although Audrey Hepburn, of "Roman Holiday," appears the favorite so far. Crooner Frank Sinatra and Donna Reed appear to be heavy choices for the supporting Oscars. Although both had star billing in "Eternity," they were classified as supporting players.

The major nominations were: Best picture — "From Here to Eternity," "Roman Holiday,"

"The Robe," "Julius Caesar," "Shane."
Best actor — Lancaster, Marlon Brando, "Julius Caesar," Richard Burton, "The Robe," Montgomery Clift, "From Here to Eternity," William Holden, "Stalag 17," Best actress — Miss Kerr, Miss Hepburn, Leslie Caron, "Lili," Ava Gardner, "Mogambo," Maggie McNamara, "The Moon is Blue."

Best supporting actress — Miss Reed, Grace Kelly, "Mogambo," Geraldine Page, "Hondo," Marjorie Rambeau, "Torch Song," Thelma Ritter, "Pickup on South Street."

Best supporting actor — Sinatra, Eddie Albert, "Roman Holiday," Brandon de Wilde, "Shane," Robert Strauss, "Stalag 17," Jack Palance, "Shane."

Best song — "The Moon is Blue," from the film "The Moon is Blue," "My Flaming Heart," from "Small Town Girl," "Sadie Thompson's Song," from "Miss Sadie Thompson," "Secret Love," from "Carmichael," "That's All," from "The Caddy."

Best documentary — "The Conquest of Everest," "The Living Desert," "A Queen is Crowned." Despite "From Here to Eternity's" amazing showing, it set no record. "All About Eve" won 15 nominations, and "Gone With the Wind," "Johnny Belinda," and "A Streetcar Named Desire" scored 13, the same as "Eternity."

Close runner-up in the 1953 light comedy filmed in Rome, which netted 10 nominations. It was followed by "Lili" and "Shane" with six and "Julius Caesar" and "The Robe" with five. Of the leaders, only "The Robe" was filmed in one of the industry's new-dimensional techniques.

The final Oscar winners will be voted on by the academy's 1,800 members following nominations by bulk of the industry's workers. The coveted gold statues will be handed to the lucky few before television cameras at the Hollywood Pantages Theater March 25.

Says U. S. Must Keep Ready

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Adm. Robert B. Carney said today the United States must be ready regardless of whether another war is fought with nuclear bombs or bamboo spears.

"I cannot, nor can anyone else, forecast the blueprint for an ultimate showdown of the nations now in ideological conflict," said Carney, the Navy's top officer and

Paradise in Orchid Say Cave Explorers

By ED EASTERLY
CRYSTAL CAVE, Ky. (AP) — The sight of "an orchid paradise" in stone today rewarded the men and women of nerve and stamina who are penetrating the lower level of Crystal Cave.

And the spectacle, found 300 feet below the earth's surface in this Mammoth Cave National Park area, is believed to be only a sample of the wonders hidden in the wilderness of unexplored passages.

The National Speleological (cave study) Society, now fully named and equipped at its advance camp three miles from the cave entrance, stepped up the tempo of exploration on the third day of its seven-day expedition.

The search was put on a round-the-clock basis, with four teams in the field at all times.

The room of enormous flower-like formations in gypsum on the edge of the uncharted area had been observed before by only a few intrepid explorers.

William Burke Miller, an NBC newsmen accompanying the expedition, described it as "an orchid paradise on the ceiling" and "the most beautiful sight any of us had ever seen."

The stone flowers, he said, "hung in clusters of indescribable beauty and their colors ranged from pure white to red brown."

They formed over the centuries in a reaction of the limestone with moisture in a circular room 18 feet in circumference and five feet high.

The sight whetted the enthusiasm of the 32 men and women in the expedition's Advance Camp No. 1, three miles and six hours of crawling and climbing from the cave entrance.

Joe Lawrence Jr. of Philadelphia, 27-year-old leader of the expedition, arrived at the outpost at midnight to take charge of the push into unknown area.

Scouting teams still are searching for a white for Advance Camp No. 2, which must be six hours farther in the cave.

The teams are equipped not only for crawling but have mountain-climbing gear for scaling domes which rise to a height of 50 feet and pits which drop to a depth of 100 or more feet.

One team of two women and four men, which became stranded by fatigue on the three-mile route to Advance Camp No. 1, finally arrived after 13½ hours. Among them was Mrs. Ida V. Sawtelle of Brooklyn, the camp cook. He immediately prepared a spaghetti dinner for the outpost crew.

Five Persons Meet Violent Death

By The Associated Press
At least five persons have died violently in Arkansas since last Sunday midnight, including a tornado victims and two homicides.

W. L. Richardson, about 50, was killed early yesterday when a tornado hit the Whitton community in Mississippi County.

The Little Rock Negro men were killed in separate shootings yesterday. Detectives J. W. Cox said Marcelle Miller was shot to death in a cafe fracas. Walter Ridley, the cafe owner, was charged with manslaughter, said Cox.

Deputy Sheriff John Hardin of Pulaski County said 16-year-old Cleveland Sanders was killed with a .22 caliber rifle at a baseball park. Carolyn Brown, 15, was charged with manslaughter, Hardin said.

Jerry Pigo, 22-year-old deaf Negro, was killed Monday when he walked into the path of a Missouri-Pacific freight train at El Dorado.

member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, in an address prepared for the Naval War College.

He voiced certainty of only one thing — the expanding military strength of Russia, including what he said was the unobtrusive emergence of the Soviet Union "as the second strongest naval power in terms of the number of ships in commission, second only to the United States."

THIS GOES ON ALL DAY LONG—Motorists probably love it, but the gasoline price war in Kansas City, Mo., is keeping sign painters busy as they attempt to keep abreast of changing prices. Shortly after the 17.9 cents sign was made, prices dropped to a low of 15.9 cents per gallon.

DOROTHY DIX

Triangular Problem

Dear Miss Dix: The boy I love is overseas. Before leaving he asked me to wait for him. Naturally, I said I would, although he would be gone two years. He wrote, once I answered, and heard nothing further from him. Then I learned that he had asked another girl also to wait for him. I wrote, asking for an explanation, and he replied that he had met her after he acted my promise, was sure he loved her, but would like to continue being friends with me. From the general tone of the letter such as the use of particular pet names, etc., I am sure he still loves me. I know the other girl is not being true to him — as I would be. She dates other boys, but knows I won't tell. What should I do?

Phyllis

Answer: I'm not a soothsayer, but I do believe you have a better-than-even chance of winning the boy back.

You must realize, first, that what he was doing when he asked the other girl to wait, and wait for him, was providing two years' security for himself. Try to imagine what it would be like for you to be sent thousands of miles from home, knowing you wouldn't see any of your family or friends, and would be dependent entirely on mail to provide a personal touch. Apparently he wasn't too sure that you would wait for him, so latched onto another girl for assurance. Of course, he should have had more faith in you, but perhaps he has boy friends who were let down by their own girls. Two years is a long time to expect a young girl to go dateless.

True Colors Will Show
Since the other girl obviously isn't the faithful type, it won't be long before her true colors become apparent. You are right in not totaling such behavior would lower you in the eyes of the boy instead of lessening his interest in her. Continue writing to him the friendly letters he requested. It won't be easy for you, but getting the man you want isn't always a cinch. It usually takes a lot of forbearance and patience. But it's worth it, isn't it?

Dear Miss Dix: Our home has been broken up three times in 12 years through my husband's drinking. I have gone back each time thinking things would be better. I work and look after our little girl. I have tried every possible way to make our marriage a success, but have received absolutely no co-operation. My family, however, insist I should go back to him. Are they right to interfere in my business? Olive R.

Answer: Families may not have the "right" to interfere, but from time immemorial they have tried to, and until the end of time they will continue. Very often their interference is justified, and should be considered, but not in your case. Struggling through life with a confirmed drunkard is not a course to recommend.

Dear Miss Dix: What would you consider the normal length of time for a friendship to lead to a marriage proposal in the case of middle-aged people? I feel I have found the ideal woman for me, though I've only known her three weeks. Jim D.

Answer: Perhaps you already know the lady as well as you might after a three-year acquaintance. The time is short, but since you feel delay might weaken your chances, go ahead and propose.

Drinkers Urged to Return Pop Bottles

LITTLE ROCK. (AP) — If folks don't start returning empty pop bottles they might find themselves having to pay more for the soft drink and more deposit on the bottles.

That was the warning voiced yesterday by Jim D. Meek of Fort Smith, new president of the Arkansas Bottlers of Carbonated Beverages.

Meek said soda pop plants in Arkansas lose about $335,200 a year because people don't return empties.

"All this tends to increase the operating costs of the bottler, and may in the future lead to higher drink prices and higher bottle deposits for the consumer," Meek told the 43rd annual convention.

Would you trade a Penny for a Dollar?

You can if you use Natural Chilean Nitrate of Soda for your top-dressing and side-dressing needs. It costs a little more because it's worth more. But the difference in cost usually can be measured in pennies per acre, while the difference in value often amounts to dollars per acre.

Chilean "Bulldog" Soda gives you generous extra value. The nitrogen is 100 per cent nitrate. It's 100 per cent available (quick-acting); 100 per cent dependable. The minor elements make crops stronger, healthier. The sodium—26 pounds in every 100-pound sack—is a key to maximum returns on your entire fertilizer investment. It offsets the bad effects of acid-forming fertilizers...increases the efficiency of mixed fertilizers containing them. It releases "locked-up" potash in the soil...increases the availability and efficiency of soil phosphate...reduces potash, calcium and magnesium losses by leaching...develops larger, deeper root systems.

Sodium builds up the productivity of your land—more each year. It's an essential element for some crops...beneficial to most and necessary for maximum yields of many.

Pennies-per-acre difference in cost may mean dollars-per-acre difference in value to you. Chilean "Bulldog" Soda is the best fertilizer your money can buy. Use it for all of your top-dressing and side-dressing needs.
